

Meet Sheri...

Few people have influenced global leadership more than Sheri L. Mackey. Known as "The Global Coach", Sheri is a highly sought-after author, speaker, and executive coach with a unique perspective on global leadership, intercultural communications and organizational change in the international marketplace. Sheri is also the President and CEO of Luminosity Global Consulting Group – a strategic leadership coaching and consulting firm providing a full range of services focused on developing exceptional executives across boundaries and borders.

For over 20 years, Ms. Mackey's partnerships with Fortune 500 companies have resulted in organization-wide initiatives that facilitate exceptional business results on a worldwide basis. Sheri's global enterprise expertise makes her uniquely qualified to inspire, as well as enable, high potential leaders to drive for extreme organizational results.

Ms. Mackey is universally characterized by both colleagues and clients as one of the most insightful, powerful, and compassionate individuals in global business today. Living and working in diverse countries throughout most of her life, Sheri is one of the most knowledgeable and influential global leadership experts in the world and is respected for her exceptional work in international leadership and management.

Sheri received her MBA in International Management from the University of Cambridge, as well as her B.Sc. in Psychology from the University of Maryland. Having a strong belief in social responsibility, Sheri serves on several Not-For-Profit Board of Directors, leads both foreign and local Mission trips to help the less fortunate and mentors at-risk teenage girls.
